Ahsan Khan Chowdhury
Chairman & CEO of PRAN-RFL Group

Ahsan Khan Chowdhury was born in Dhaka, Bangladesh on September 6, 1970. He is currently the Chairman & CEO of PRAN-RFL Group, one of the leading business conglomerates in Bangladesh, previously he performed his duty as the Deputy Managing Director. Mr. Chowdhury initially studied in Dhaka and later went to USA for higher studies where he graduated from Wartburg College, Iowa in 1992.

Mr. Chowdhury started his business career in the family's real state, food, plastic and light engineering business. He worked in all three fields and was extremely successful in making profitable deals for the company. Under his dynamic leadership, PRAN-RFL Group earned extensive acceptability & recognition in Bangladesh as well as globally in a short span of time. Today, it is the fastest growing corporate in Bangladesh - which contributes significantly to the socio economic development of the country. Currently the group has diversified interests in agro-processing, food, plastic, light engineering, banking and many other sectors. The group has its own production facilities in 23 different locations all over Bangladesh. The Group directly employing over 110,000 people and another 15, 00,000 people subsists of PRAN-RFL Group.

Over the last 27 years Mr Chowdhury's role is instrumental in the success of the Group. By profession he is an entrepreneur, but he is a pioneer on several fronts. He is known as an executive in the fields of sales, marketing and business development. From the start of his career, he had special focus on sales and marketing with a strong vision to make his products and service available in every shop even the remotest parts of the country. He travels all over Bangladesh to build up the strong sales and distribution network. Today the group occupies a market share of almost 65% of the industry in Bangladesh in spite of the tough competition of the multinational companies.

Mr Chowdhury strongly believes that in spite of Bangladesh being the World's most densely populated and poorest country, there is a lot of potential for development if given an opportunity. Bangladesh is considered as an agro based country but now with the changing trend the economy is rapidly developing to market based economy and thus it is emerging as a strong and competitive industrial based country. Bangladesh is endowed with vast human resource in the world and if properly utilized, they can prove to be most valuable asset for the development of the economy.

After winging the hearts of millions in Bangladesh, Mr. Chowdhury focused on export market. He travelled extensively in all continents, focusing on North America, Europe, Africa, and Asia to enrich and develop the markets. Under his charismatic and effective leadership the Group has established overseas offices in Dubai, Oman, India, Africa, Malaysia and Spain. Currently his Group is exporting its products to over 141 countries of the world. In recognition of Mr Chowdhury's outstanding contribution in exports his company was awarded with Best Exporters Trophy for last 14 consecutive years by the government of People's Republic of Bangladesh.

His current mission is to emerge as the first Bangladeshi Multinational company with production facilities in different parts of the world by the year 2020. As a stepping stone, his company has successfully installed its production facility in India and Nepal.

Mr. Chowdhury's father, Late Major General Amjad Khan Chowdhury (Retd.), was a soldier turned into a businessman who started the family business in 1980 with the strong support of his mother, Sabiha Amjad , who continually worked with him to establish the business. His wife, Seema Chowdhury, is carrying out out the responsibility as a Director in her two daughter, Samia and Sameen who are also planning to join their father's business after completing their studies in Canada.

Mr. Chowdhury is an active member of all Trade and Commerce bodies, Association and clubs in Bangladesh. He is involved in many socio-economic activities to serve the community. He is deeply involved in every aspects of his business on regular basis, working hand in hand with his employees. He works long hours and starts his day very early and work till late night. He can be described as a successful and energetic entrepreneur, workaholic, and hands on manager. He is an optimistic and has a very pleasant Personality.
